2. Reading comprehension

Reading 1

Read the following interview, then turn to tasks 1, 2 and 3.

Seeing with the mind

Everyone faces challenges in their life, but some are more significant than others. Daniel Kish was born with a type of eye cancer and doctors removed both of his eyes before he was fourteen years old.

Soon after, however, he started to do an amazing thing. He started to make clicking sounds with his tongue to help him move around. Much like a bat, he now moves about using sonar. He is so good at it that he can ride a bicycle in traffic. He and his group, Word Access for the Blind, teach others how to use sonar. In this interview with National Geographic, Kish explains how the process works.

1. e

When I make a click sound, it makes sound waves. The waves reflect off surfaces all around and return to my ears. My brain then processes the sounds into images. It's like having a conversation with the environment.

2. When you click, what do you see in your mind?

Each click is like a camera flash. I make a 3D image of my surroundings for hundreds of feet in every direction.

3. c

It's thrilling but requires a lot of focus. I click up to two times per second much more than I usually do.

4. Is it dangerous to move around the world in this way?

Much of the world lives in fear of things that we mostly imagine. I have a habit of climbing anything and everything, but I never broke a bone as a kid.

5. a

My students are surprised how quickly results come. Seeing isn't in the eyes; it's in the mind.

1) Which question belongs to which answer? Match the letters with the numbers in the text. There are two extra questions.

(marking: 1 p. for each correct answer, no point for multiple answers)

- a. How challenging is it to teach people to use sonar?
- b. What is Daniel Kish's group called?
- c. What is it like riding a bicycle using sonar?
- d. Are many of your students interested in learning sonar?
- e. How does human sonar work?

Reading 2

Read the following text and then turn to tasks 4 and 5.

Are you looking after yourself?

In the hectic world of today, people are always searching for more ways of keeping fit and healthy. Susan Jones has been looking into some of the ways of looking good and feeling good.

Go for a run

Running is excellent exercise. Before you start running, you should warm up first, using slow movements that make all your muscles work. But be careful! If you stretch when your muscles are cold, you might do yourself an injury. Always wear comfortable clothing and make sure your trainers are in good shape. If you wear shoes that give you support to your whole foot, you will put less pressure on your knees. You should start exercising slowly, at a pace you can keep up for about 15 – 20 minutes. Try to exercise on soft ground as this will protect your knees and hips from too much stress.

Get a good night's rest

It's ok if you go to bed late occasionally but if you regularly cut down on your sleep, it will soon start to have a bad effect on your skin. If you get a good night's rest, it will do your appearance the world of good. It is not called beauty sleep for nothing! Lack of sleep can cause acne or dry skin. Make sure you get a good night's sleep by going to bed and getting up at regular times: don't burn the candle at both ends. During the day, keep active: if you don't get enough exercise during the day, you may end up sleepless all night.

Sit up straight!

Prf-Nummer:

Did you know that standing, sitting and walking badly can make you look heavier than you really are? If we watched the way we sat and stood, it would improve your appearance a great deal. Stand in front of the mirror with your feet apart and your legs straight. Pull in your tummy, check that your ears, shoulders, hips, knees and ankles are in line with each other. You should be feeling and looking better already!

Spend more time in the open air

Most of us live in large polluted cities. If we got more fresh air, we would look healthier and more attractive. A brisk walk is one of the best things you can do for circulation and appearance. Walking slowly is useful but a quick pace gets more oxygen into your lungs. So don't just go for a pleasant stroll, try and find an area that doesn't have much pollution, and get moving!

Don't overdo it

Many young people feel guilty about eating too much chocolate, and some even say they are addicted to it, though there is no evidence to support this. Chocolate does contain a lot of fat, however, and therefore any addicts out there would do better to eat less. However, if your diet is balanced, you needn't feel guilty: eating chocolate in moderation is fine – but don't eat it instead of a proper meal!

4) Complete the text with the appropriate word(s) from the box. There are two extra words which you do not need to use.

(marking: 1 p. for each correct answer, spelling has to be correct)

polluted	the world of good	stay in shape
in moderation	appearance	burn the candle at both ends
looking after	have an impact
